Presentations

Brook Ridge Farm Award Recognition

Warden McCarron presented Ian and Rhonda McCarron with a certificate recognizing their award as 2019 Producer of the Year by the Sheep Producers of Nova Scotia. Warden McCarron provided an overview of their farm and past achievements, and Councillor Chisholm provided his congratulations as well. Photographs were taken. The McCarrons spoke to their certification and what is involved, as well as the importance of speaking with the community about farming activities.

Antigonish Art Fair

Mr. MacEachern provided members of Council with an overview of the importance of art and cultural activities in the community. The Art Fair's planned activities for the upcoming year were reviewed, with planned dates being:

- June 26th
- July 10th
- July 24th
- August 7th
- August 21st

An update was also provided about the Art House, including new equipment and infrastructure that has been installed over the summer. A overview of community events, room rentals, and businesses running out of the space was also provided.

The Antigonish Street Fair is also being organized by the Antigonish Art Fair Association, with a planned date of Wednesday July 8th from 11am to 4pm. A new event, Plein Air Antigonish, is planned for September 17-20th as well. Other events, such as the Hallowe'en Harvest Bash and the partnership with the County for Canada Day, were also shared.

Discussion followed. The Art Fair Association and Mike were thanked for their work and dedication in bringing these events to the community.
